COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM TRAINING

CERT classes are aimed at preparing groups of citizens in the South Pierce Fire & Rescue Fire District to prepare for and respond to disasters! The classes follow the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) model that is offered in cities across the United States.

The idea behind The Community Emergency Response Team training is to teach citizens in all communities how to help each other in the first few minutes, hours and possibly days following a disaster - before emergency responders are able to get to us to render professional help. In the classes, students will gain knowledge for skills such as how to put out small fires, render fast aid in a disaster situation, and perform light search and rescue.

The series consist of eight classes which will be held over three days, 9:00 am to 4:30 pm culminating on the third day with an open book test and receipt of a certificate of completion. You will need to provide your own lunches!

The classes are free! Upon completion CERT members are encouraged to join the SPF&R Support Services team for ongoing training and skill set practice if they wish!
